Space Institute Support Council

Growing Our Council Membership Campaign

THE UNIVERSITY of TENNESSEE

What does the Support Council do?

The purpose of the UTSI Support Council is:

- To promote the close relationship between the University of Tennessee Space Institute (UTSI) and a select group of progressive-minded individuals from throughout Middle Tennessee.
- To provide a means, on a regular basis, for keeping the friends and supporters of UTSI abreast of the overall status and progress, as well as the significant individual events, in the life of the Institute.
- To give the friends and supporters of UTSI an opportunity for rendering assistance to the Institute in its role as a spark plug in making Middle Tennessee and advanced educational, research, and development area that is of national and international esteem and attractive to industry.

Why should I become a member?

- Show support for UTSI's research and advanced education mission.
- UTSI is an economic engine for this region, generating $30 million in annual impact.
- Employs our family, friends, and neighbors (190 jobs + 250 students).

Benefits of Becoming a Member of the Support Council

- Knowledge of UTSI and It's Programs
The University of Tennessee Space Institute is a nationally recognized aerospace education and research organization. Support Council members can receive up-to-date information on all aspects of the UTSI curriculum as well as plans and results from millions of dollars of federally and state funded research.

- Involvement in UT Strategic Plans
The University of Tennessee has derived an exceptional Strategic Plan that involves all five campuses of its statewide system: Knoxville, Chattanooga, Martin, Tullahoma, and Memphis. Members of the Support Council can stay up to date on the metrics being used to measure: Student Access and Success; Research and Economic Development; Outreach and Globalization; and Organization, Resources and Communication.
- Giving Back
Many of our citizens are very fortunate to have received an outstanding education from the University of Tennessee or other fine institutions around the nation. Membership on the UTSI Support Council is an excellent way for many of us to give back to the academic community as a way of thanks for what we have achieved from our education.
